-Seward Guardsman Slain At LaCrosse—
Theft Motive Studied In Death Of Walla

Empty Billfold Is Found Near Bruised Body
Of Corporal, 42, Who Was Training At McCoy

LA CROSSE, Wis.—(Lincoln Star Special)—An empty billfold found near the scene caused officials late Wednesday to think that Cpl. Frank R. Walla, Seward, Neb., national guardsman found dead early in the day, was a victim of robbery.

Police Chief George Long said the billfold identified as Walla's was discovered half a block from where Walla's bruised body was found early Wednesday morning. The billfold was found while La Crosse and Camp McCoy officials were in the midst of questioning several Nebraska National Guardsmen, who, with Walla, were attending summer training at the camp 35 miles from La Crosse.

The body of Frank Walla, who was 42 and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walla of Seward, was first discovered between 5 and 6 a.m. Wednesday. Coroner George Ray said the World War II veteran's death was caused by a brain hemorrhage as a result of blows on the head.

Seen About Midnight

One Nebraska Guardsman queried by La Crosse police said he had seen Walla alone about midnight. This was the last time the dead man was reported seen. He had gone to La Crosse on an authorized pass which, according to Camp McCoy officials, permits leave from the camp until 6 a.m.

Police theorized that the Seward man was killed sometime after 3 a.m., at which time a light rain fell. His clothes were not damp when his body was discovered, they said.

Long told the Star that officials "hadn't much to go on," but would try to advance the robbery theory because the man's billfold was found empty.

The police chief said there was no evidence of a struggle, but it could not be determined if Walla had been killed elsewhere and moved to the alley just off the highway and several blocks from the downtown business district.

A. W. Rice of the LaCrosse Tribune said officials investigating the crime questioned a woman Wednesday who said she saw a man leap from a moving car Tuesday night in the vicinity where the body was found. The woman said several other men then dashed from the car and pursued the first man up the street.

Police Officer Oscar Wells of the LaCrosse Police Department Wednesday night told the Star that military and civilian authorities are co-operating in the murder investigation.

Asked whether they had uncovered information as to any persons seen with Walla on the night of his murder, Wells said: "We aren't divulging anything at this time." But he added:

"We feel confident that we will soon find the right person."

Blows To Head

The death blows were apparently administered to the side of his temple, Long said, and the one day last February, Mrs. Hilda Bond of Cortland received a letter from her son, Lt. Clarence O. Bergstrasser, in which he mentioned that he had "got a locomotive the other day" and said "so we're up for a citation of some sort."

Wednesday, Mrs. Hilda Bond was in Lincoln to receive that citation—and the Distinguished Flying Cross—awarded her son who has been missing in action in Korea since Feb. 21.

Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamison and Maj. John B. Truell of the University of Nebraska Air ROTC conducted brief ceremonies at the home of the missing airman's uncle, Otto Bergstrasser, 2805 Starr.

Mrs. Bond, Bergstrasser's

High Official:
'Briefings Available For Ike'

Tip Follows Talks Held For Stevenson

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high Democratic official said Wednesday that the Truman administration is willing to keep Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower abreast of international developments by a series of confidential briefings while Eisenhower is running for President on the Republican ticket.

The official, who declined to be quoted by name, added that he would not be surprised to learn that Eisenhower already has been advised of this by the White House.

He said he thought the offer would leave the way open for the head of the GOP ticket to come to Washington in person to get his briefings or to send a trusted emissary.

Earlier in the day, Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, told a news conference that he thought Eisenhower ought to get the same kind of a fill-in given to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee for President, when he visited the White House.

Eisenhower said in a sharp statement Tuesday night that Stevenson's visit showed the Truman administration is determined to continue its policies through a hand-picked successor.

"The President and his Cabinet obviously want the people to know that the nominee of the Democratic convention is subservient to the political forces which have too long been in power in our country," the general said in Denver.

Reporters asked Sparkman whether the White House conference proved that the Truman administration was controlling Stevenson and his campaign.

"Does that mean that Gen. Eisenhower would not accept an invitation to come here and be briefed on the international situation?" Sparkman asked in turn.

Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Oklahoma) made the first public suggestion that Eisenhower be kept up to date on top-secret foreign developments as the presidential campaign runs its course.

Lincoln Scouting Officials Discount Any Red Infiltration

Three Lincoln Boy Scout officials are unaware of any Communist attempt to infiltrate the Scouting organization as reported out of a Senate subcommittee Wednesday.

President of the Cornhusker Council William Avon Fraser said he knew nothing about an infiltration attempt into the Scouts but added, "I wouldn't put it past the Communists to do such a thing."

Treasurer of the Cornhusker Council Edward Becker also said he knew nothing of the Communists attempts.

"It isn't surprising though," he said, "because that is their method."

Mr. Becker believes it would be difficult for Communists to infiltrate the Boy Scouts because the committee of eight or ten that select the scouts are "careful who they select."

Most of the local committee would have to be Communist, he said in order to place a Communist leader among the scout troops.

Past President of the Cornhusker Council F. E. Henzluk, one of the directors, said he knew of no infiltration movement in the Boy Scouts.

3-Year-Old Grateful For Motorcycle Ride Home After His Long Solo Hike

Three-year-old Vicky Fischer took a two-mile hike by himself and was very grateful for a ride home.

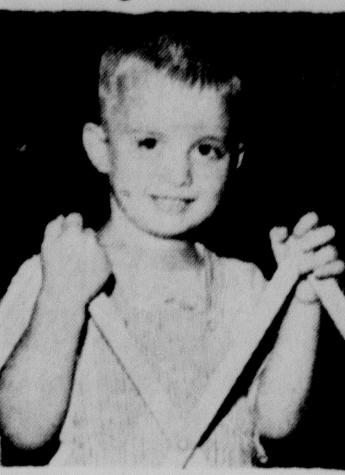

The tow-headed youngster wandered off from the Hartley School grounds when his playmates went home for lunch, but he did not go home to 3343 T.

Worried calls to the police department brought Motorcycle Officer Melvin Green to the neighborhood. Vicky did not turn up in the thorough search of the vicinity.

Green located the boy when a woman called police headquarters saying "a little boy in a red suit was sitting on the curbstone crying." It was Vicky — 19 blocks from home at 30th and Starr.

Green picked the boy up at 27th and Potter and reported that the motorcycle ride home left Vicky smiling.

Problems Increasing In Battle To Eradicate Swine Disease

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Problems are increasing rather than decreasing in the campaign to eradicate vesicular exanthema in swine herds of the middle west, Dr. E. P. Anderson, state veterinarian, said Wednesday.

B. T. Simms, head of the bureau of animal industry in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has notified Dr. Anderson that the bureau proposes proceeding with measures to eradicate the disease including sharing costs of indemnities with the states on a 50-50 basis on the difference between salvage returns and appraised values.

Iowa, Kansas and Wyoming have advised Nebraska that they have agreed to the plan. Action on the part of Nebraska is awaiting the return of Gov. Val Peterson today or Friday from his tour of military duty as a reserve officer.

Slaughter Problem

The problem encountered by the other states is that packing plants refuse to take the animals ordered slaughtered. They point out that 28 states have placed a quarantine on importing pork products from plants processing hogs from quarantined areas. What action will be taken on Nebraska swine if they join the federal plan is unknown.

In the meantime, Dr. Anderson said, he is working to reduce the quarantined area in Nebraska and get it as soon as possible to an individual feed lot basis.

Opposition is growing to the plan suggested by Gov. Peterson who informed the U. S. Department of Agriculture that if an indemnity program was inaugurated, he would call a special session of the Legislature so that Nebraska could participate.

Opinions Vary

Members of the Legislature have expressed opposition to the plan in the belief that if indemnities were paid claims could be submitted at the January session.

Others are of the opinion that knees and right arm.

present laws are sufficiently broad to permit making the payments as the state Department of Agriculture still has over $100,000 appropriated for eradication of diseases in livestock.

Only about 9,500 hogs are now under quarantine in the state, Dr. Anderson said Thursday. Of these, 3,000 each are at two serum manufacturing plants and 2,700 are in the lots of the Omaha Feeding Co. The remaining 800 of those eligible for indemnities are scattered.

With the concentration of swine eligible for indemnities it is argued that a special session is not warranted. Decision on whether present laws are sufficient to take steps necessary for eradication, probably will be decided by the governor and attorney general on his return.

Thirteen employees are affected by the ruling, which may not have an effective date prior to June 16, according to the board's announcement.

850 Goodyear Workers Here Get Pay Hike

"All hourly employees" at the Lincoln Goodyear Company plant "will receive a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase, effective Aug. 8, following approval of the Wage Stabilization Board," Richard A. Jay, local plant manager, announced Wednesday.

Jay's statement followed an announcement by Ernest E. Payne, international representative of the CIO United Rubber Workers Union, that about 850 workers in the Lincoln plant will get the wage boost.

The increase was first announced jointly by Goodyear and the rubber workers union.

Nationally about 30,000 workers at 10 plants are involved. Wage Stabilization Board approval of the hike will be asked jointly by the company and the union.

The regional Wage Stabilization Board office also announced that a general increase of three cents an hour for 97 plant employees of Beatrice Foods has been approved.

According to the announcement, the petition requesting the increase was submitted jointly by the Beatrice Foods Company and the General Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers Union, No. 608, A.F.L.

The increase exhausts the company's entitlement under General Wage Regulation 8, as of July 15, 1952, and the board ruled the new adjustment may not have an effective date prior to August 6, 1952, the announcement added.

General wage increases of 10 cents per hour for bulk plant employees and five cents per hour for office employees of the Lincoln Oil Company were also approved by the ninth regional Wage Stabilization Board. Proposed rate ranges and a progression plan also were approved.

Thirteen employees are affected by the ruling, which may not have an effective date prior to June 16, according to the board's announcement.

Serano was shot near an east Ninth Street tavern and died shortly afterwards without disclosing the identity of his killer.

Way Clear For New Commission On Free German Elections

U.N. Group Steps Down

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The U. N. Assembly commission established to investigate conditions which would govern free German elections on both sides of the Iron Curtain bowed out Wednesday to make way for the Big Four commission demanded by Russia.

The four-nation group, in a final report, said that Russia's unrelenting hostility and internal developments in East Germany convinced all commission members of the futility of pursuing the task.

In suspending, the commission expressed hope that the Big Four can achieve what the U. N. group failed to do, particularly since it was Russia which insisted on the appointment of a commission comprising the four occupying powers to investigate the possibility of holding all-German elections.

U.N. diplomats and officials are of the opinion, however, that any hope of achieving progress toward all-German elections ends with the voluntary death of the U. N. commission.

Prevailing opinion at the U.N. is that the Soviet Union fully succeeded in its strategy of forestalling an impartial inquiry into conditions in East Germany.

U.N. observers point out in that connection that six notes have been exchanged since March between Moscow and the three Western powers on the subject of German elections.

It is noted at U.N. that with each note, the issue of German unification has been shoved more and more into the background, and is now considered definitely on the shelf, leaving the Russians with another propaganda victory on East Germany to their credit.

Commission members were Brazil, Iceland, Netherlands and Pakistan.

Grocers, Butchers Annual Picnic To Be Held Sunday

The 50th annual Grocers and Butchers picnic will be held Sunday, Aug. 17, at Capitol Beach.

Sponsored by the Lincoln Independent Grocers Association, the festivities will get under way at 1 p.m. Feature event will be a first place prize of $75, $50 for second place and $25 for third place.

Lenn Loken, Association president, said there were already 26 entries in the contest.

Free Rides

Other highlights of the annual outing will be a watermelon feed, country store, grocery auction, and free amusement rides.

In past years, the picnic has been held in the middle of the week. The change to Sunday, said Loken, was made for the convenience of both grocers and the public.

Heading committees for the picnic are four members of the Association:

Sam J. Gatto, bathing beauty contest, Anthony Messineo, country store, Forrest Huston, watermelon feed, Paul Karnes and Kari Meyer, prizes.

Young King Of Iraq Happy As Dodgers Defeat Giants

NEW YORK (INS)—King Faisal II of Iraq saw his first ball game Wednesday. And he liked it. He liked it because he saw his favorite Dodgers knock off the Giants, 5 to 4.

The handsome, curly-headed 17-year-old king raised his voice in cheers for the Dodgers, and it is the same voice which next May will have a large part in deciding the destinies of his own country, the Near East and the world in general.

Next May, when he becomes 18, the boyish king will be formally installed as the ruler of his country.

Sitting in Dodger Prexy Fran O'Malley's box and surrounded by a flock of State Department underlings, FBI men and his own numerous entourage, the king discussed this and that.

He has just completed four years of schooling at Harrow, where Winston Churchill got most of his formal education, played cricket and soccer, learned to box.

Enjoys Boxing

He said he liked soccer much better than cricket because "it is faster and rougher." So he was asked if he liked a rough sport like boxing.

His eyes immediately lit up. "Surely," he said. "I've boxed a lot myself."

Had he ever been knocked out?

But he hastened to add: "I've knocked out several boys and they were pretty good, too."

When the Dodgers had the bases loaded and the score tied, he was asked:

What would you think if we stopped for an hour now for a pot of tea as the English do in cricket?

"Oh, that would be terrible," he replied.

Collision Not Serious

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (INS)—The destroyers Gregory and Marshall collided at sea Wednesday, but the Navy said there were no injuries and damage was not extensive. The 11th Naval District said the accident occurred about 50 miles off Catalina Island during "routine exercises."

Northern Proposal To Furnish Allied Gas Is Protested

The Central Electric and Gas Company of Lincoln announced that it has filed notice of intervention with the Federal Power Commission on the Northern Natural Gas Company's request to furnish 12-million cubic feet of gas daily to the Allied Chemical and Dye Company's new fertilizer plant at La Platte, Neb.

The Allied plant would use the hydrogen from natural gas as a raw material to produce urea and related nitrogen fertilizer products.

H. A. Thorson of Lincoln, district manager of Central Electric and Gas, said the reason for the intervention action was the shortage of natural gas in the Lincoln area.

He said:

"Until Northern Natural has satisfied our needs here in Lincoln and the other communities and services, it should not be taking on this extra responsibility."

"I have no objection if the new plant were supplied with natural gas on an interruptible basis, thereby allowing Central to fulfill its needs first."

Northern Natural executed a contract with Allied Chemical & Dye Corporation last April 25, agreeing to supply the company with a maximum of 12-million cubic feet of gas daily for a 20-year period.

He was born July 11, 1887, in Meadowville, Mo., son of Mary and Willis Beach, and was reared in that town.

He worked with hotels and railroads in Nebraska and Missouri as a young man.

Surviving are his wife, Camille, Lincoln; a son, Cornelius, Lincoln; four sisters, Nancy Beach, Mrs. Hattie Gillespie and Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, all of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Eva Warfield, Laclede, Mo.; a brother, Henry of St. Louis; four nephews and two nieces.

'Top' Pacific Northwest Blood Donor Got His Early 'Start' Here

The Portland, Ore., ex-service man lauded in the Pacific Northwest for being a top blood donor got his "start" in Lincoln at an early age, it was learned Wednesday.

Jack Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Walker, 228 So. 17, began donating blood to hospitals in Lincoln when he was just a "youngster," and has kept it up ever since, according to his father.

A clerk in the office of the local Union Pacific freight agent in Lincoln, Walker was proclaimed top donor there when he recently

Became Habit

"Once he started giving blood, it got to be a habit, he used to say," said the elder Mr. Walker.

He wrote that when he was in Hawaii he had to donate now and then or he didn't feel well."

Walker was born and reared in Lincoln and attended Lincoln High. He had the blood type which makes him a "universal donor" and often volunteered to give blood to need people here. His father remembers only once when "they made him take money for it."

After leaving Lincoln, Walker served with the Army and was employed in Hawaii for a total of about six years.

He married the former Gertrude Woods of Elmwood. The Walkers have one son, Jackie, who will be a year old soon.

This Matter Of Discrimination

The editor received this letter from C. C. Sheldon of Columbus Wednesday, member of a prominent pioneer Nebraska family, and a man closely linked with the hydro-electric development in Nebraska:

"Please let me express my appreciation and thanks for your editorial on the electric rate situation. It is the best analysis of the problem that I have seen. You have rendered a great service to your readers and the state by presenting this clear, factual statement which tells the story clearly and accurately. Evidently the municipal representatives do not realize it but such an arrangement as they propose would be the rank kind of discrimination."

Whatever the editor of The Lincoln Star has said about the present controversy between the city of Lincoln and a handful of municipalities associated with Director Erickson in the present rate controversy represents a long association with these developments which have been of great value to the state of Nebraska in providing electricity for hundreds of cities and towns and for 80 per cent of the farms of this state. The city of Lincoln does have a responsibility in contributing to a leadership that builds all the state, a responsibility that falls upon any capital and particularly upon a community that is the seat of so many state agencies as Lincoln.

The editor was fully aware of the deep interest in many areas of Nebraska in this matter. He was amazed, however, at the number of expressions that have come to him in recent days from people who have followed Nebraska development in sympathetic, kindly understanding.

Mr. Erickson cries discrimination.

He and the council itself are in this peculiar position:

If they think the rate which they are asked to pay in the wholesale purchase of electricity is discriminatory, then they should ask the court in friendly spirit to determine whether the rate actually is discriminatory. For the law itself specifically forbids discrimination. They should do it now—not weeks hence when a temporary contract is nearing the expiration date.

And a part of the responsibility of the City Hall, including Mr. Erickson and the mayor, in a cry of discrimination, it would seem, is to inform the public what rate is not discriminatory in their judgment. If the City Hall has done that, it has not come to the attention of this paper.

Shockproof Economy

Possibly half of all those who mark a ballot in the November election never have lived in a majority sense—with all the responsibilities which majority brings—with anything except an inflated economy.

Now the cry is for deflation—that is, less government spending—with an accompanying reduction in the tax burdens.

We think that in thoughtful circles, there is little difficulty in achieving general agreement that inflation cannot continue indefinitely unchecked. We think also there would be general agreement that deflation must to some degree follow the same slow, imperceptible, gradual lines that marked the course of inflation.

That is what contributed a touch of absurdity to Gen. Eisenhower's statement in New York City on June 11 that he looked forward to a reduction of 40 billion dollars in the federal budget in two or three years. That glittering outlook was hedged in, however, on the basis of an improvement in international affairs.

A slash of 40 billions in two years would mean 20 billions in 12 months. Perhaps the farms and the cities could absorb it in their march toward deflation. But the weeks ahead demand so much of the individual voter. In his understandable desire to be relieved of tax burdens, he should give thought to the inevitable consequences of drastic overnight action. This country, to its very deep sorrow and suffering, experienced that once before and it did not like it even a little bit. Some place in between the two extremes, it would seem, there is a sensible middle course which will serve every individual best.

Lawyers Work Indians

For Million-Dollar Fees

WASHINGTON — When "Big Indians" promised "full stolen from you, and anything the justice" to New Mexican Indians white man gets is just so much this week, he probably didn't by the grace of your kindness."

Gov. Gruening testified that know that increased defense demands for timber, oil, and uranium have quadrupled the value of Indian land in the past decade and that, as a result, "to the poor Indian" has become very much worth plucking.

This column in March, 1948, exposed the manner in which the Vanadium Corporation was haggling over the payment of royalties to the Navajos. Latest development in restoring "full justice" to the Indians is the manner in which a group of lawyers is scrambling to represent them.

Indian tribes have now been permitted to file millions of dollars worth of claims against the federal government, with the result that legal representation of the Indians can be extremely profitable. Ernest Wilkinson, for instance, recently was awarded a $3 million fee for prosecuting Indian claims against Uncle Sam.

One of the most interesting Indian lawyers is James E. Curry, who was on the way to having a near monopoly of Indian legal counsel—a total of 41 contracts with 36 different tribes or groups.

Curry is general counsel of the National Congress of American Indians, also represents such diverse and scattered Indian groups as the Standing Rock Sioux, the White Mountain Apaches, Yavapai Apaches, Sitka Community Association, Salt River-Pima-Maricopa Indians, Colorado River Indians, Fort Peck Indians, Fort McDowell Paiute Shoshones, the Moapa band of Paiutes, the Walker River Paiutes, the Yerington Paiutes, the Caddo Tribe of Oklahoma, the Reno-Sparks Indians, the Tlingit and Haida Indians, with various others.

It may or may not be significant, but at the time Commissioner Myer began to scrutinize carefully the contracts of lawyers representing Indians, Washington began to be flooded with letters of protest, urging that the government let the Indians hire their own lawyers without any government supervision.

One of the gripes which the Senate Investigating Committee had when it retained as general counsel of the National Congress of American Indians, agreed to give free legal aid to poorer tribes. But when the Pyramid Lake tribe of Nevada appealed to the Congress of American Indians for free legal aid, they were confronted by a contract naming Curry as their attorney at $3,000 annually plus expenses. The fee was finally reduced to $1,500.

"This free-legal-aid bait," William Fire Thunder, a full-blooded Sioux leader, told the senators, "was held out to the various tribes, including the Alaskan tribe, for the purpose of enticing membership in the Congress of American Indians and later feathering the nest of one James E. Curry."

One of Curry's supporters is Ruth Muskrat Bronson, former executive secretary of the Congress of American Indians, who, according to Senate testimony helped to throw legal contracts into Curry's lap.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Ike's Campaign Fails To Go Into High Gear

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower campaign for the presidency is still unco-ordinated and unorganized. That is the inescapable fact that emerges from an effort to find out what is really happening in both Washington and Denver where Eisenhower headquarters are in existence.

Perhaps it is too early to expect an organization in being. But it is not too early to see how such an organization is to be shaped up. And no amount of talking can explain away the fact that this is not yet visible.

A recent session of Eisenhower strategists in Denver revealed the differences and divisions that make it so difficult to set a firm course for the crucial weeks immediately ahead. The meeting tended to be more nearly a debate rather than a planning session. In opposite corners were Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts and the new Republican national chairman, Arthur Summerfield of Michigan.

"What we've got to do," said Summerfield, "is attack, attack, attack—never let up on them."

But Lodge did not see it that way. He pointed out that the Republican party had far too long taken only the negative and even the destructive viewpoint, opposing everything and anything that the opposition did.

"That is not what the people expect from Gen. Eisenhower," Lodge said with considerable vehemence. "They look to him for something constructive and purposeful. That must be the tone of the campaign."

This divergence over the approach to the voters is part of the Republican dilemma. Personalities and the labels attached to them also have a lot to do with the difficulty in agreeing on sailing orders of a clear and unequivocal nature.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois represented the extreme anti-Eisenhower position in the party prior to the Chicago convention. It was Dirksen's speech with its fiercely emotional appeal, that set the Taft delegates to boozing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and shaking their fists in the direction of the skillful operator who more than anyone else directed the Eisenhower nomination. Naturally, when Dirksen conferred with the nominee recently, the desire was to bring in someone equally prominent on the Dewey side to strike a balance.

Those are primary concerns in this western country.

The utility approach does not restrict itself to opposition to big dams in which electricity is a part of the program. When it loses the first round then it devotes all of its energies to a struggle to establish the principle that all the electricity should be distributed over the facilities of the private companies. That means of course that the private companies cash in on developments financed by tax money.

NEBRASKANS: In The Workshop And At Home

For Education: Humanities And Social Studies

By JOE VOSOBA
Star Staff Writer

Educating the college student toward a better life after college, as well as preparing him professionally, is the big goal of the University of Nebraska's new dean of the Arts and Sciences College.

"The basic question," says Dr. Walter E. Militzer, "is what are you going to teach a student?"

What Dr. Militzer believes should be taught emphasizes the humanities and the social sciences—studies that prepare a student for well-rounded enjoyment of his personal life in addition to his technical training.

The Arts and Sciences College, more than any other college in the University, should prepare the student for living with his fellow man," Dean Militzer said.

"While much of our work relates to giving the student a profession, we nevertheless should strive toward fitting him to the problems he will face after he has a job."

"He must have ideals and goals he can get only by studying the humanities and the social sciences."

Although the dean plans no changes in the college for the 1952-53 school term, he does intend to gather together the people in the college who are interested in educating students in the humanities and the social sciences.

He wants to "pool their ideas" and map out a program of what the College should do.

This program, Dr. Militzer suggested, could well include the initiation of a new course or courses.

In forming policy for the College, and for the University as a whole, "those educators below the rank of chairmen are the most important people," he said.

"The rank-and-file professors," Dr. Militzer emphasized, "are to me the most important people on the University's educational side."

They now have considerable voice in policy-making, he explained, through the policy committees in the various colleges and through the University Policy Committee, of which Militzer is a member.

His own education—at the University of Wisconsin from 1928 to 1936 (B.S., Ph.D.)—failed to achieve what he now seeks, the recently-appointed dean said.

"My education there was very unsatisfactory as far as the humanities are concerned," he said. "It was strictly technical. Something was lacking, and it was then I realized that it was not the type of education that fits a man for living."

The education Militzer received at Wisconsin was chemistry once in a while in his new job, and has some research under way there now.

"I also hope to teach some," he added. "I like students too well, and don't want to lose contact with them."

Militzer, 45, was born and grew up in Arlington Heights, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. There were teachers before him in his family—his father taught piano and voice, and his grandfather taught in the Arlington Heights grammar school for 55 years.

His wife is the former Clementine Newman, who was social director of Carrie Bell Raymond girls' dormitory, and national president of Kappa Delta sorority.

The Militzers, with their two children, a boy 1 year old and a girl 6, live at 3141 Sheridan.

He still hopes to get back to

DR. WALTER E. MILITZER

ing years, can do to a man seemingly strong at 75.

No man of even 70 has been elected or re-elected President. No President, not even one of those holding two or more terms, has reached 70 before the end of his service. Roosevelt at the end of his fourth term would have been only 66. The oldest man ever chosen was "Tippecanoe" Harrison in 1840 at the age of 67, who died only one month after his inauguration. Of the 23 men elected President, only six were in their 60's, while 16 were in their 50's, and six even in their 40's.

In spite of the advance in medical science and the marked increase in the average longevity of man, the trend of the average life span of Presidents has been downward. The burdens of the presidency are heavy, exacting, and toll-taking in years. The position calls not only for great ability, training and experience, but also for exceptional physical stamina and endurance. The risk as to health and life with a new President in his physical and mental prime is great enough without asking the country to hazard one of extreme age contrary to the precedents and experience of over a century and a half.

Impressive Tomb, Huge Monument To Be Memorials Of Eva Peron

7 Leading Counties In This State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scotts Bluff County in Nebraska ranks among the leaders in the nation in sugar beet production, the U.S. Department of Commerce disclosed.

Burwell's Annual Rodeo Opens

First Day's Attendance Hits 10,000

BURWELL, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special) — An estimated 10,000 persons overflowed this western Nebraska town for the state's big rodeo opening Wednesday.

Good time was marked up in the afternoon roping and bulldogging contests although no time records were broken.

Past-national champion cowboys, including Casey Tibbs, 1951 champion all-round cowboy, were competing. A total of about 150 cowboys are entered for competition.

Wednesday night featured a cutting-horse contest, burlesque bull fighting in a steel ring in front of the race track, trick riding, trick roping, and presentation of the nine girls competing for Queen of the Rodeo title.

The queen will be crowned at noon Thursday.

Ends Saturday

Rodeo officials aided to the program a cowgirl ribbon-rope event for Wednesday afternoon. A two-girl team ropes a calf and ties a ribbon around its neck.

Other highlights of the rodeo, which ends Saturday, are national quarter-horse futurity and derby races, and quarter-horse show, with finals Saturday morning. Almost 140 quarter horses have been entered in the show.

Paul Banks, rodeo secretary, predicted "standing room only"—crowds of close to 20,000—the next three days.

Practically all Burwell homes and accommodations were filled and many were staying in neighboring towns.

State To Get $129,360 For Civil Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Defense Administration Wednesday announced allocation of $129,360 in matching funds to Nebraska for Civil Defense buying.

The money is part of a 15 million dollar allocation to states for medical supplies and equipment, attack warning and other communications, fire fighting and rescue equipment, and for training and public education.

Wendell Harding, state civil defense director, told The Star that the $129,360 is available to city and county governments who want matching funds for civil defense buying.

He added, "Not too many cities or counties have taken advantage of the money available to them for civil defense."

There are no funds available on a state basis for matching with federal funds, said Harding. "Our office merely funnels city and county requests for matching funds to the Civil Defense Administration.

Of This--And That

SPENT A LOT of time in the wee small hours trying to find someone who might know Miss Betsy Bennett — but didn't make the grade—But if anyone DOES know Miss Betsy Bennett—of whom 'tis said—"She is a popular singer in San Francisco—and hails from Lincoln, Nebr." They might be interested in the news that she is to marry Andre Previn who composes and directs music for numerous TV shows.

SPEAKING OF shows—Understand that numerous of the not-too-long marrieds have planned an evening at the Hayloft come Friday—The group includes Mr. and Mrs. George Holoyoke, Mr. and Mrs. John Dudgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flansburg, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Cromwell, Mrs. Joseph Cunningham (of Siam), Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Frank Roehl, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shaw. Then we learned that the group had taken two bachelors under its wing for the evening—Ben Sylvester and Paul Porter. Another postscript tells us that all concerned will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and take off for the theater from there.

THUMBED through our little red book to see what was what for the late week, and discovered we had a notation concerning guests—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sarbach and their three children—Kathleen, Douglas and Vicki, of Akron, Ohio, who will be arriving this weekend to spend a few days as the guests of Mrs. Sarbach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wimberly. Mr. and Mrs. Sarbach (Ruth Wimberly) and their family now are in Denver where they are visiting Mr. Sarbach's sister.

RAN OUT of space yesterday before we could tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Faulkner, their son, Clarke, Jr., and daughter, Laurie, had returned home—Mrs. Faulkner and the children from Kansas City, where they had been visiting Mrs. Faulkner's family—and Mr. Faulkner from the west coast where he had made a flying trip, literally and figuratively, for business conference-ing.

Colors For Autumn

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Not the roving waistline and not the highly tauted new decorative fabrics but color is revealed as the factor singled out by style authorities for special notice as the curtain goes up on the fall fashion scene.

Unless your new fall wardrobe is touched with the drama that the new colors offer, your clothes' dollars will not be buying what will make the most of your appearance. To make sure that you do not get shorted in this manner, clip this column and refer to it before making any sorties into the fashion marts. It not only tells you which colors fashion favors but the complexion that each fashionable color will particularly enhance.

New Fall Colors

Picture a Vermont hillside touched by frosty fingers—those tawny colors that you'll see in your mind's eye, ranging from caramel and apricot through copper browns and deep raisin, are the ultimate in high fashion as well as flattery for all of you with a dark-toned skin. No matter what the color of your eyes, no matter what the color of your hair, including red and the palest silver, these shades are as right for you as autumn gold is for a maple tree.

If your skin is fair, you'll find your drama and loveliest look in wearing the subdued and medium tones of cranberry, sage and slate blue. To picture mentally the subtle nuances of these grayed down selections from the autumnal coloring think of meadow mist, hanging herbs and rose petal drying in the soft sunshine of a late fall afternoon. As color accents for you, therein lies magic!

Here are the general notes on this fall's color: Blues have a special importance—light blue, medium-grayed, greenish like tea, vivid like royal and turquoise. Fresher than yellow-cast reds are the rosies. Deep plums stand-in for the violets of yesterday. In every gradation beiges are newswy while gray, especially combined with gold or black, proves a staunch stand-up. Up and coming stars are the greens, olives for the brunet and bluish-cast greens for the blonds and Titians.

Smart Black

Black makes a terrific impact this fall when woven into suiting and coatings with vivids—royal, ruby, emerald or gold. It stands alone with a magnificence when shined up like celophane or dulled like quality crepe. But any effect in between is dolorous.

These are the season's fashionable colors and shades. Take from them those that appeal to you; and from those take the shades that flatter you. This three-step color selection will make your fall wardrobe a masterpiece!

Career Woman

1-9-5-2

MRS. FRANCIS DRATH

The modern career woman can handle two jobs at the same time in a most efficient manner.

For evidence we offer Exhibit A—Mrs. Francis Drath—who combines homemaking and a career with equal ease.

The fact that Mrs. Drath was a career woman before she became a homemaker may have something to do with her capabilities—she had just one new job to learn. Anyway Mrs. Drath, who met and married Lieut. Colonel Francis Drath while he was in Europe, is a former newspaper woman, having done columns on cultural things for the American Military government in Germany, and for German and Austrian newspapers. But newspapering is only a small part of her talents as a writer—She has written numerous plays which have been used by European film companies, including those in Prague.

Mrs. Drath also is an accomplished radio writer and has done several things for American radio corporations since her arrival in the States—Her newest achievement is a story recently sold to an American movie producer, but of course she hasn't even the remotest idea when it will be released on film. She did tell us something of the story, however—It involves a country that has come under Communist domination, and relates the efforts and struggles of anti-Communist elements to regain their freedom. It is factual, too, for Mrs. Drath, of German and Swedish parentage, has been an eye witness to many such truths.

"Of course," she added, "there had to be a romantic angle—so I had to put a little love story in it, too."

We Hear That

Joel and Susan Sidell, son and daughter of Mrs. Constance Sidell, took their first plane trip on Wednesday when they left for Denver to visit their father. After a day or two in Denver the children and their father will go to Grand Lake to spend several days fishing and vacationing.

Rural Sections Control State Democratic Strategy

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—Strategy of the coming campaign by the Democratic party in Nebraska was clearly shown by the attitude of convention delegates in demanding a "middle of the road" approach to government and a recognition that Nebraska is an agricultural rather than an industrial state.

Rural sections took control of the convention and firmly resisted efforts of labor leaders in the metropolitan areas of Omaha and Lincoln to ascend into leadership. The attitude was clearly shown in the resolutions adopted by the convention without opposition except a delaying attempt by a Lancaster County "New Lifers" which was brushed aside.

While attention was paid to the problems of labor, the planks that appeared in final draft were not in the precise language demanded by the representatives of the "New Lifers." The same fate befall some case Gov. Adlai Stevenson carries of the advanced social philosophy of the state. They are pledged to phies. Chairman Paul Busch of Howells said it did not mean opposition to a health program.

Clarence J. McCormick, undersecretary of agriculture, reviewed the administration's farm program for the past 20 years. He asserted that if present farm prosperity is "muck prosperity" as the Republicans have claimed, "I love it."

The platform favored expanding and strengthening conservation of natural resources and continued support of rural electrification.

Following the suggestions made by Walter Raecke of Central City, the party candidate for governor, in his keynote address, resolutions on the favored repeal of the second choice presidential preference vote and the pre-primary endorsement of state candidates with the widest possible participation of the people in presidential nominations.

While their names will not appear on the ballot, the convention selected the persons who will cast Nebraska's vote for President in the election.

The same fate befall some case Gov. Adlai Stevenson carries of the advanced social philosophy of the state. They are pledged to carry out the expressed wishes of the voters.

For presidential electors to be certified to the governor as representatives of the state in the electoral college, the convention named: Willard E. Townsend and Clarence Miles, Lincoln; Mrs. Marie Crowley, Kearney; H. C. Larson, Decatur; Patrick Heaton Jr., Sidney; and Peter McShane, Omaha.

The committee on rules were excused from reading the 54 pages and by unanimous vote their report was referred back to them for further study.

DANVERS, Mass. (AP)—A store which not-too-modestly admits to having sold the most expensive cups of coffee in the world is a highlight of this town's 300th anniversary.

The drug store in which three armored truck guards sipped coffee while their truck was looted last March has hung a huge counterpart of a coffee cup in front, inscribed: "The Home of the $681,000 Cup of Coffee."

Bullet-Riddled Flag Symbolizes Marines' Daring At Bunker Hill

WITH THE FIRST MARINE once green hill Tuesday morning DIVISION, Korea (Thursday) in the face of withering enemy (INS)—A tattered, smoke-beaten flag flies proudly over small arms and artillery fire and Marine battalion headquarters on a hard-won Bunker Hill near Panmunjom today—veteran of the capture and successful defense of the strategic height.

The flag, stitched by Korean orphans, flew in the sandy reverse slope of Bunker Hill while Marines held against everything the Chinese had to throw at them in vain attempts to retake the ridge-line won by the Marines early Tuesday.

It is a Korean battle flag, one of the group presented by a Korean orphanage to each company in the battalion of Marine Lt. Col. Gerard T. Armistage of Evanston, Ill. The flag is dedicated to the Archangel Michael.

Capt. Howard J. "Spike" Connally of New York City said his "fine bunch of men" carried the dusty, bullet-ridden green and yellow flag into action and Sgt. John D. Hatley of Charlotte, N.C., for "dragging six wounded guys to safety." The bearded sergeant, in turn, said most of the Marines crawled up the steep, in turn, said most of the Marines were from Morton, Pa.

Senators Hear:
'Boy Scout
Infiltration
Is Red Aim'
'Church, School Groups
Are Being Ensnares'

WASHINGTON (INS)—Senate investigators Wednesday made public the secret testimony of an ex-Communist who said the Reds are now trying to infiltrate the Boy Scouts because of their failure to "smash it."

The witness, Harvey M. Matusow, of Dayton, O., also told an International Subcommittee of other Communist efforts to "ensnare" American youth into school and church organizations which are actually Red fronts.

Lost 1930 Attack

Matusow testified that the Communists tried to wreck the Boy Scouts during the 1930s by attacking the youth group as a tool for "capitalist wars" and by setting up a rival organization, "Young Pioneers."

This failed, Matusow said, and Communist tactics have now "changed drastically" with party members seeking influence within the Boy Scouts.

The former Red, who now works for the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission, testified that about 500 of the 1,200 students at Antioch College in Yellow Springs, O., "suppor all the activities and the line" of the party.

He said that "Six per cent of the student body are actual card-carrying members" of the "Young Progressives of America," an alleged Red front, and that almost 40 per cent are influenced by it.

Matusow's testimony prompted a charge by subcommittee Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) that "many thousands" of American youths had been "led astray" by Communist recruiters.

Status Of Insulting Words Not Settled, But Fine Is Levied

"Stupid" or "dumbhead," which is the most insulting?

The problem came up in Municipal Court, Wednesday when a cab driver, William Moreley of 3735 So. 48th, pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving resulting from a collision at 17th and M on Aug. 4.

Moreley stated that he had told a driver who he said was blocking the intersection, "Come on, stupid, let's get it out of here."

After the conversation, the court was told, Moreley put his car in gear and started off, colliding with the rear bumper of the other car.

The second driver testified that the cab driver had called him "dumbhead," not "stupid."

Not ruling on which of the words was most insulting, Judge John Jacobson found Moreley guilty and fined him $10 and costs.

$35 Not Enough So Denver Bandit Gun-Whips Woman

DENVER (INS)—A 53-year-old Denver woman was gun-whipped Wednesday by a bandit who first took $35 from a limousine store in which she was working and then asked her, "Is that all you got?"

Margaret Gassmire told police she fainted unconsciousness after the gunman hit her with his pistol, but that the man "wasn't satisfied until he saw blood" and hit her again.

Mrs. Gassmire was working alone in the store when the gunman entered. She said he forced her to the back of the building and beat her after he had cleaned out the cash drawer.

Coronation Problem

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—President of the senate, el-Sayed Gamil el Madfaie is expected to preside over a high council to fix the date for King Feisal II's accession to the throne of Iraq.

The young king, who is now studying in England, will reach his majority next spring. The council will decide whether the date will be calculated according to the Arabic or the Gregorian calendar.

Funeral Services To Be Here For Mrs. H. S. Styer

Funeral services for Mrs. H. S. Styer, 85, Culver City, Calif., mother of Harley V. Styer, manager of the Styer Hunt Home here, will be in Lincoln.

She died at Culver City at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. Parnell.

Mrs. Styer is the widow of Horace Styer, pioneer mortician in Nebraska, who had operated a funeral home at Rising City until his death in 1926.

Mrs. Styer was born April 29, 1867, at Massillon, O., and came to Nebraska as a child. She lived on a farm near Rising City until she was married to Horace Styer in 1883.

She had been living with her daughter in Culver City since her daughter's death.

Surviving are two sons, Harley V. Lincoln and H. Russell of Atlanta, Ga.; a daughter, Mrs. Parnell; six grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Burial will be in Rising City.

Weyland Certain Allies Are Ready For Any Challenge

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Otto Weyland, Far East Air Forces chief, Wednesday said Allied air power over Korea has increased considerably while the Communist plane buildup has leveled off.

But the top Allied air commander, interviewed by the London Daily Mail, did not disclose how many more bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters he can fly over North Korea.

Weyland reported Red MIGs still outnumbered Sabrejets, the best American fighter plane.

"But the MIGs aren't worrying me a bit," Weyland said. "We have enough Sabrejets to take care of them as has been shown by our recent victories."

He also told Bernard Kaplan of the Daily Mail that the possibility Allied planes might bomb Chinese territory by mistake is "absolutely negligible."

Teetotaller Brewery Boss

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Eric Callaway told the New South Wales Liquor Royal Commission recently that he is a teetotaller.

Callaway is the general manager of Tooneys Brewery, the second largest brewery in New South Wales.

City Income Slashes Taxes By $355,000

Lincoln taxpayers are saved $355,000—more than a levy of two mills—by estimated incomes from various city departments.

That is the amount estimated as departmental receipts for the 1952-53 fiscal year by Finance Director Theo Berg.

A bigger chunk yet, $503,460, is deducted from the amount to be raised by taxation in the form of miscellaneous receipts. That includes a $106,200 tax collection made by the county and paid to the city on city intangible property.

Another large item under miscellaneous is $190,000 collected in occupation taxes and sundry income.

The largest figure in the departmental receipts is parking meter revenue which will net the city $150,000 in the coming year. The $90,000 meter revenue estimate for last year will just about be hit on the nose.

The estimated increase is due primarily to the installation a few months ago of 30-minute meters. Those O Street machines have consistently been about $3 ahead of the hour meters in average collections per meter.

Other large departmental incomes come from Municipal Court, $59,500; engineering de-

Democrats To Open Their Campaign In High Gear

Labor Day Talks Set By Leaders

By The Associated Press
President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson will fire a double-barreled barrage opening the Democratic presidential campaign with Labor Day speeches in Detroit and Milwaukee, it was announced Wednesday.

There had been speculation that Stevenson was none too happy about Truman accepting a bid to speak in Milwaukee on the same day he was billed to hit the campaign trail with a speech at Detroit.

But simultaneous announcements issued by the White House and Stevenson's headquarters in Springfield, Ill., indicated that mutual arrangements had been worked out.

Stevenson will lead off with a speech at 11 a.m. (CST) in Detroit.

Truman will follow at 8 p.m. with an address at the Milwaukee Sports Arena under the auspices of Labor's Political League, a joint AFL-CIO organization.

The announcement came as Republican charges intensified that Stevenson is under the thumb of the Truman administration, and steps were taken for liaison between the White House and Stevenson's headquarters in Illinois.

The White House disclosed that two Truman aides have been assigned to Stevenson to co-ordinate activities between Springfield and Washington. They are Clayton Fritchey and David Bell.

In addition, Stevenson named Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman as a member of his campaign "brain trust."

Meanwhile, Stevenson's headquarters indicated that the Democratic nominee and Truman will wage a two-gun campaign this fall—but with Stevenson taking over the main cross-country

"whistle stop" role. Truman is expected to make several speeches at key points like the 358 speeches he delivered in the 1948 campaign.

Truman will be most effective, but is not expected to undertake anything like the 358 speeches he delivered in the 1948 campaign.

REPUBLICAN VIEWPOINTS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS)—Republican vice-presidential candidate Richard Nixon declared Wednesday that foreign policy is the major issue in the presidential campaign and charged Gov. Adlai Stevenson GOP Tone is a "helpless captive" of President Truman.

Nixon's assertion that the Democratic presidential nominee is under Mr. Truman's influence was made in an address at the Illinois State Fair.

An estimated 8,000 persons jammed into the grandstand to hear Nixon declare that "Eisenhower is the candidate of the people—Stevenson is the candidate of the bosses."

The Democratic ticket, Nixon said, would be known as the Truman-Stevenson ticket "from now on out—the voice will be that of Stevenson but the hand will be that of Harry Truman."

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rep. Howard Buffett (R-Neb) charged Wednesday that "America is engaged in the most colossal war preparation in history."

Buffett, a Congress man, in a weekly report to constituents, said military detachments from 41 different countries are in training in this country and declared that "never before has a nation brought task forces from so many lands to prepare for war."

United Certain Base Problems Can Be Solved

United Airlines representatives, Kinsey, chairman of the city's Re-activation Committee, stated that plans for the new terminal building to be constructed at the Base for commercial lines would probably be ready in about 30 days.

Fall Work Possible. A contract for the work on the structure might be let this fall, he said. The city, said Kinsey, will definitely have to be out of the existing terminal building by October.

Plans to move the old terminal building to the location for the new structure have been completely abandoned, he said.

There is now $200,000 in the city money available for construction of the new terminal. Another $225,000 in Chamber of Commerce funds are available for ramps, runways, aprons, access road, parking and other items incidental to the terminal.

Meetings to settle the building strike in Lincoln were held Wednesday and will continue Thursday between the three building trades unions and seven firms in the Associated General Contractors, according to Federal Mediator Edward Ries of Omaha.

W. L. Parker, union business agent, announced that a construction laborers contract was signed with an "independent" contractor.

It was the second contract signed with a non-AGC firm. Parker also said he has oral agreements with two more non-AGC contracting firms.

The strike is now in its fifth week.

At Least 10 Killed, 200 Wounded Before Rioting In Egypt Ends

Police Hold 500 Others

CAIRO (INS)—At least 10 persons were killed and 200 wounded Wednesday in rioting by textile workers who set fire to a mill near Alexandria and caused more than a million dollars in damage.

Egyptian authorities rushed strong mechanized units of the army into the area to assist police in quelling the rioting in the fire-torn district of Kafir El-Dawar adjacent to Alexandria.

Order was restored following nearly 24 hours of disturbances only after Egypt's "strong man," Gen. Mohammed Naguib, warned that the rioters would be punished as traitors if they persisted in destructive action.

Some 30,000 workers set fire to gasoline stations, cotton stores and most of the 40,000 spindles and automatic looms they previously had smashed in the textile factory, the Middle East.

The rioters also blocked the road from Alexandria in an effort to prevent fire brigades from reaching Kafir El-Dawar. There were reports that some fired on army units moving into the riot scene.

About 500 persons were arrested.

Premier Aly Maher sent a military tribunal to Kafir El-Dawar to try the trouble makers. Sentences are to be carried out immediately.

State Officers Hopeful Of Salary Ruling

Aitken Asks Higher Rate In Claims

The pending salary suit of Loren Laughlin, insurance director, in supreme court is causing other code department directors to take precautionary steps in case Laughlin is victor.

Harold L. Aitken, state engineer, said that he is filing claims monthly for salary at the rate provided by the 1951 legislature or $8,500 instead of the present present $7,500.

The higher rate has been rejected by State Auditor Ray Johnson on the advice of the attorney general.

Differences of opinion on salary stems from a constitutional provision that salaries cannot be increased or decreased oftener than once every eight years.

Thus the salaries cannot be increased until the expiration of eight years from the last time the salary of the office was changed or 1945.

Laughlin argues that the 1945 increase was unconstitutional because the time limit had not expired and that if it is thrown out it has been more than nine years since the salary was increased. He actually did receive the new $6,500 rate instead of $5,000 the first four months of this year on a voucher presented while both Johnson and his deputy were out of town.

The Insurance Director claims that he accepted the office last December on the understanding from the governor that he would receive the higher amount.

Aitken says that if he has to wait two or three years for the increase voted he will have to accept some of the positions that have been offered him elsewhere at higher salaries.

Denver Visitor Robbed Of Gems Worth $25,000

DENVER (INS)—A nationwide search was launched Wednesday for two robbers who kidnapped a New York diamond broker on a Denver street and relieved him of an estimated $25,000 worth of unmounted gems.

Osar Gissinger, 43, of New York, told Denver police he was forced into a car at gunpoint when he kept a street corner appointment with a "well dressed smooth-talking stranger."

Gissinger, an independent gem dealer, said the stranger contacted him and indicated he was interested in buying some diamonds. The broker said the stranger and another man held him captive in their car nearly four hours, and took about 700 cut and unmounted stones, ranging up to two carats in size.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 1. If the number is less than 6, add 1. The result you get is the number at the top left-hand corner of the rectangle, and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. (Reprinted by King Features, Inc.)

Jaycees Are Studying Juvenile Delinquency Problem Here

What, if anything, is wrong with Lincoln's children?

That is one of the questions the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce juvenile delinquency committee will attempt to answer after it completes a survey now under way, according to Chairman William E. Brown.

A five man committee of Jaycees is studying Lincoln conditions and facilities as they affect younger citizens in an effort to see what can be done to prevent juvenile delinquency.

The committee, according to Brown, is starting with no pre-conceived ideas of what it will find. The study is of recreational, social and court facilities.

Brown, a case worker for the Family Service Association, who is making a special study of recreation areas and facilities for the city's youngsters.

Eckstein, an insurance man, who is contacting various social agencies which deal with children.

Dr. Thomas Dvorak, a dentist, who is making a study of juvenile court procedures and visiting court sessions to observe handling of cases.

Duane Lake, manager of the University of Nebraska Student Union, who is studying work done for youngsters by churches and other activities.

Brown said he has no idea what

Air Force Starts Plane Deliveries For Far East Pool

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The Air Force said Wednesday it has started deliveries of new planes to the Far East in an effort to bring the reserve strength of each combat wing up to recommended levels.

This is in accord with an announcement by Air Force Undersecretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick last month.

An Air Force spokesman said this build-up is now underway.

The spokesman said that the reserve pool of airplanes for each wing is being increased so that a fighter wing of 75 planes, for example, will have 30 or more additional planes in reserve.

The survey will reveal, but venture the opinion that one thing will be that there are more facilities for boys than girls. Whatever corrective action is needed will be taken, he said.

Committeemen will attempt to discover whether any corrective steps could be taken for the children. If the study is nothing more than a good report, it will be worth while, Brown said.

Two University of Nebraska

students in social work will make a statistical study of the incidence and types of juvenile delinquency in town, Brown said.

Lincoln probably has a less serious juvenile delinquency problem than many larger towns, he said.

Anybody who might come under the jurisdiction of Juvenile Court—17 years or younger—are the persons in whom the committee is interested. A number of Jaycees throughout the country have begun studies of the juvenile courts systems in their own towns.
